Attention Business Owners... Important Security Advice

If you are a business owner, you may be entrusting your financial responsibilities to a controller or an office manager. As the owner, you clearly have too many other important tasks to complete and sadly you may not notice that your financial manager may find enough weaknesses in your organization to possibly steal from you. Internal controls and careful inspection can help minimize your losses. We encourage all business owners to have your bank statements mailed to your home. YOU should open all statements, review all deposits as listed and analyze all checks for proper signature and vendor payee. This step alone can minimize possible employee financial theft. After you have done this careful review, you can then feel secure in turning over these financial documents to your financial staff for reconciling. We cannot emphasize the importance of this enough – so if you have any questions relative to financial security, call us for additional details.

We welcome your feedback, questions and inquiries about our services. You can reach us at info@olbrichtgroup.com We look forward to hearing from you!
